The CPHS

Media Production Academy

is an interdisciplinary enterprise serving the visual art and media production needs of CPHS students, faculty, administrators, and community members.

We are teachers and students using media technologies to record student events and productions

achieve academic goals

prepare students to pursue advanced education and / or seek entry level employment in art, publishing, digital media, and production related fields.

This unique educational enterprise celebrates all students' potentials to work collaboratively in a technological environment and to thrive in the professional worlds of art, publishing, and digital media productions.
